Mendevians

The Mendevians are a mutli-national, multi-racial crusade force that has engaged in multiple military campaigns in Greenland between 3923 and 4020 to attempt to stop the devastation of the Svraksi upon the land and prevent their spread to other continents.

The "Mendevian Crusades" were reasonably successful but never wholly so, and the areas of Greenland wherein they took place are left in ruin. Many Mendevian Crusaders have retired to northern areas of Greenland rather than returning home, as they became tired of constantly fighting and the attacks on the Svraksi began to feel more like cleanup missions.
